

My Brave

By Kristen Lloyd

Afraid of Bugs, Afraid of Heights, Afraid of cold and dark long nights alone,
I couldn't stand to be alone,
Afraid to fail, afraid to be, the one I know is inside of me 'til this,
I never ever could have prepared for this,
It took a little fear to find my brave, but I stood my ground even in the rain,
I surprised me, I found the brave inside of me,
I still can't believe or understand, how my David beat Goliath with his own
two hands,
but now I'm standing here because,
Wow, I must have been braver than I thought I was Don't jump, don't try, you're better off watching your life roll by from here, so why do I wanna get out of here?
Just play it safe, and play it still, 'cause there's a big cliff beyond that hill, You'll fall,
but what if I lost it and gained it all?
It took a little fear to find my brave, but I stood my ground even in the rain,
I surprised me, I found the brave inside of me,
I still can't believe or understand, how my David beat Goliath with his own
two hands,
but now I'm standing here because,
Wow, I must have been braver than I thought I was Braver than the dark the damp the cold, I found my brave, my strong my bold, just when I thought I couldn't win, I met the me within,
It took a little fear to find my brave, but I stood my ground even in the rain,
I surprised me, I found the brave inside of me,
I still can't believe or understand, how my David beat Goliath with his own
two hands,
but now I'm standing here because,
Wow, I must have been braver than I thought I was.
