

Let Go, Let God

As by Jack Cassidy

My fear got me struck down
Got me knocked out
By the hands of the enemy
Those lies had me held down
Till I found out
That is not my identity
I found my life when I laid it down
And all my hope is in You now
My faith is in You Jesus

I'm learning to let go and let God
Show me how to be me
I'm learning to let go and let God
Show me how to be free
Your yoke is easy
Your burden is light
My daily bread and my daily delight
I'm learning to let go and let God
So I can be the real me

I'm giving over my heart
For a new start
Cause I've come to the end of me
I'm learning that in Your love
There is freedom
Even for a wretch like me
I found my life when I laid it down
And all my hope is in You now
My faith is in You Jesus

I'm learning to let go and let God
Show me how to be me
I'm learning to let go and let God
Show me how to be free
Your yoke is easy
Your burden is light
My daily bread and my daily delight
I'm learning to let go and let God
So I can be the real me

I've been hurting
I've been burdened
Too long too long
Fear is falling
Chains are breaking
So long so long

I've been hurting
I've been burdened
Too long too long
Fear is falling
Chains are breaking
So long so long

Let go let God
Let go let God
Let go let God
Let go and let God

I'm learning to let go and let God
Show me how to be me
I'm learning to let go and let God
Show me how to be free
Your yoke is easy
Your burden is light
My daily bread and my daily delight
I'm learning to let go and let God
So I can be the real me

Let go let God
Let go let God
Let go let God
So I can be the real me
